ACCOUNTABILITY, COMPLIANCE & GOOD GOVERNANCE

United4Change Center (U4C) is a 501(c)(3) public charity committed to rigorous compliance with U.S. nonprofit regulations and recognized standards of transparency and stewardship. A review of U4C's IRS Forms 990 for tax years 2021–2024 confirms the organization is in good standing and consistently fulfills federal reporting requirements. These filings are prepared by an independent CPA firm and provide clear, comprehensive disclosure of U4C's activities, governance practices, executive compensation, and financial position. Across the reviewed period, U4C reported no unrelated business income and no excess benefit transactions.

U4C's revenue is primarily driven by contributions and grants, complemented by modest earned income and other revenue streams, all reported transparently. This financial profile reflects a mission-led organization designed to maximize program impact while maintaining the governance and operational capacity needed for sustainable growth.

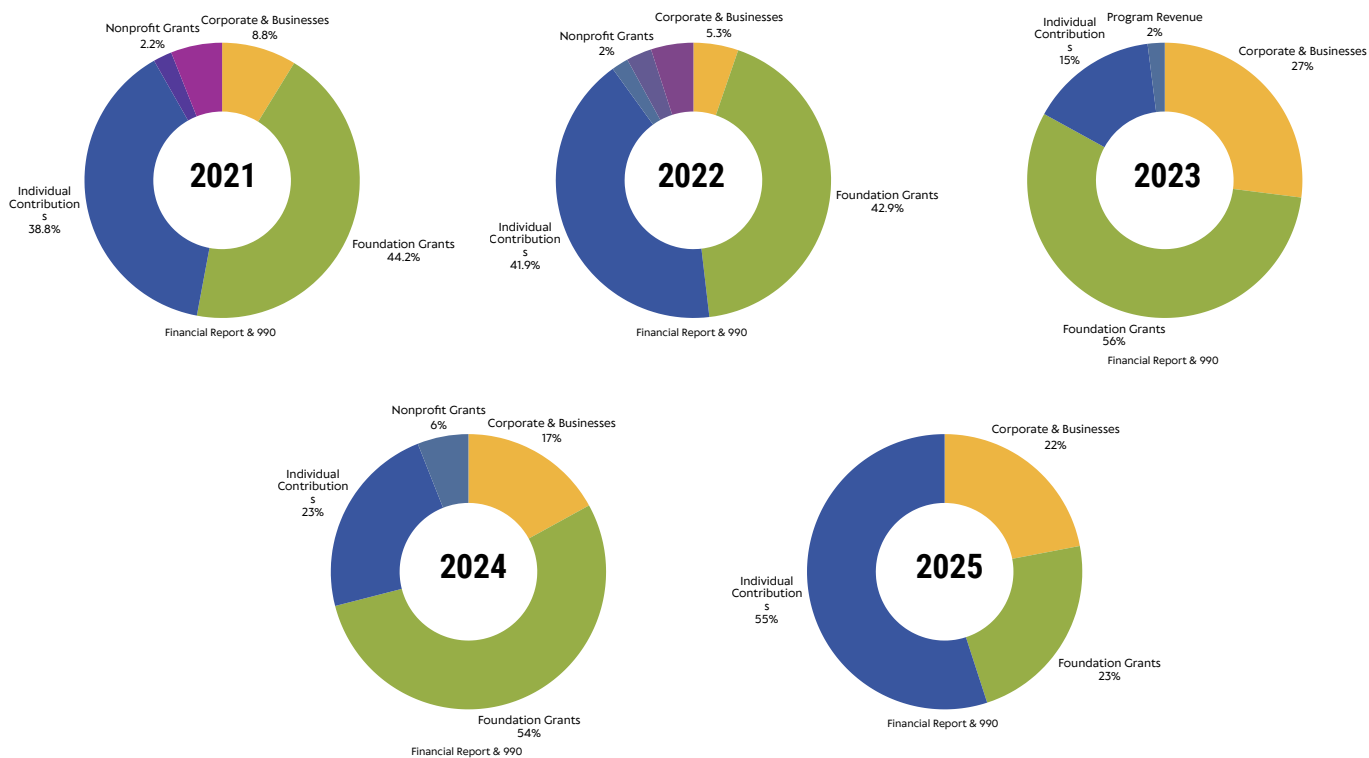

Core elements of U4C's financial governance include:

- Annual Form 990 filing with transparent reporting of revenue sources, expenses, and program activities
- Active Board oversight, including review of financial statements and key organizational policies
- Strong compliance controls, with no excess benefit transactions or unrelated business activities identified in the reviewed period
- Responsible fund management, ensuring resources are used in alignment with donor intent and U4C's mission to expand opportunity and resilience for women, families, and communities worldwide

In addition, to reinforce accuracy and integrity, U4C's financial figures for 2021 through 2025 have been reviewed and, where needed, revised by a Certified Public Accountant (CPA). This professional oversight strengthens stakeholder confidence that resources are managed responsibly and invested in a manner consistent with U4C's mission and impact commitments.
